Citizens Bank of West Virginia, a headline sponsor of the LIVE UNITED COMMUNITY CHALLENGE, recently presented a large financial gift to United Way Executive that will affect thousands of Randolph County residents. United Way is now just a few thousand dollars shy of its $155,000 goal.

Citizens' $5355.00 donation was comprised of corporate and employee donations that will help fund 27 agencies and programs serving citizens of all ages and needs.

“Supporting United Way is a continuing tradition of Citizens Bank,” stated President & CEO Thomas K. Derbyshire. “We encourage employee payroll deductions and hold in-bank fundraising events throughout the year. Additionally, we have several staff members who are active United Way volunteers.”

Citizens Bank's Board Member Robbie Morris serves as president of the United Way Board of Directors and is leading the Green District for the LIVE UNITED COMMUNITY CHALLENGE. Senior Vice President & Marketing Officer Kathy Leombruno is a member of the United Way Board of Directors and is leading the Red District during the $40,000/4week challenge. Greg Harper, Collector and Dealer Sales Specialist, is leading the Blue District as he rallies his team to raise $10,000 in funds for the challenge. Laura Simons, Office Services/Facilities and Security Manager serves as the bank's in-house United Way representative.

Citizens Bank of West Virginia is a full service bank with trust and investment services. Offices are located Elkins, Parsons, Beverly and Snowshoe. A Home Lending Center is located in Buckhannon.
